

Success in Dating Survey (app users)

 By Yuliya Matviychuk  82 min  18

Data structure:

Results

General

P1: How do you define your success on dating apps?(results)

By subscription status:

By age

By gender:

By sexuality:

P2: What motivates you to use online dating apps instead of pursuing relationships offline? (results)

By age

P3: Red flags and profile expectations results

By subscription status:

By age

By User Groups

Open questions:

Extra files:

Data structure:

Sampling - 928 users:

- Location: USA
- Genders: ALL LGBT & non-LGBT
- active in the app within last 10 days
- Age: 18-45

Survey dates:

2024-07-29 - 2024-08-26

Gender Distribution:

Man: 336 users (36%)

Woman: 292 users (31%)

Non-binary: 126 users (14%)

Transgender man: 71 users (8%)

Transgender woman: 103 users (11%)

Age distribution:

18-25: 375 respondents

26-35: 469 respondents

▼ Questions

1. What motivates you to use online dating apps instead of pursuing relationships offline? (Select all that apply)

- a. Convenience and flexibility (Ability to meet and interact with people anytime and anywhere, fitting dating into a busy schedule)
- b. Broader reach and diversity (Access to a wider and more diverse pool of potential partners than available locally)
- c. Limited local options (Lack of sufficient dating opportunities or a visible queer community in the immediate area)
- d. Ease of finding compatible matches (Utilizing app algorithms to find matches based on specific preferences and interests)
- e. Exploration of identity (A safer space to explore and express one's sexual or gender identity)
- f. Safety and anonymity (Greater control over personal information and the pace of interactions, providing a sense of security)
- g. Community and support (Opportunities to connect with a community that shares similar experiences and challenges)
- h. Other (please specify)

2. How do you define your success on dating apps? (Select all that apply)

- a. Making new friends
- b. Finding a long-term partner
- c. Having casual dates
- d. Engaging in meaningful conversations
- e. Finding someone for a one-night stand (ONS)
- f. Finding a partner for marriage or starting a family
- g. Understanding my sexual identity
- h. Getting support or advice related to LGBT issues
- i. Other (please specify)

3. How often do you feel you have achieved your defined success on dating apps?

- a. Very often
- b. Often
- c. Sometimes
- d. Rarely
- e. Never

4. How satisfied are you with the results you have on dating apps?

- a. Very satisfied
- b. Satisfied
- c. Neither satisfied nor dissatisfied
- d. Dissatisfied
- e. Very dissatisfied

5. How do you feel when you have not achieved the expected results on dating apps for some time? (Select all that apply)

- a. Discouraged (It lowers my morale and sometimes makes me want to stop using the app)
- b. Frustrated (I feel annoyed or upset because things aren't going as hoped)
- c. Indifferent (It doesn't affect me much; I don't have strong expectations)
- d. Isolated (I feel left out or unlike others who seem to be having better experiences)
- e. Curious (It makes me wonder what I could do differently or how others succeed)
- f. Motivated (It encourages me to try different approaches or improve my profile)
- g. Other (please specify)

6. What are the most common red flags you encounter while using dating apps? (Select all that apply)

- a. Profiles that lack depth or detail, suggesting a lack of seriousness

- b. Inconsistent or deceptive information in profiles
- c. Pushy behavior or pressure to move too fast
- d. Lack of respect for boundaries or consent
- e. Attempts to bypass app communication channels (e.g., insisting on immediate off-app contact)
- f. Overly aggressive or disrespectful communication
- g. Unsolicited explicit messages or images
- h. Refusal to share pictures or use video calls
- i. Discrimination or hate speech based on sexual orientation, gender identity, race, etc.
- j. Other (please specify)

7. What red flags do you typically watch out for when dating someone new? (Select all that apply)

- a. Lack of communication or inconsistent messaging
- b. Dishonesty or discrepancies in their stories
- c. Lack of interest in your life or feelings
- d. Disrespect towards boundaries or consent
- e. Pushy or controlling behavior
- f. Quick temper or displays of aggression
- g. Overly critical or judgmental comments
- h. Avoidance of video calls or in-person meetings
- i. Refusal to discuss or plan future activities
- j. Negative talk about past relationships
- k. Other (please specify)

8. Which types of information in a user's profile help you decide to make a connection? (Select all that apply)

- a. Mention of intentions or what they are looking for (e.g., relationship, friendship)
- b. Common interests or hobbies
- c. Detailed bio that reflects personality and interests
- d. Clear, high-quality photos
- e. Sense of humor or a witty profile description
- f. Inclusivity statements or signs of open-mindedness
- g. Lifestyle indicators (e.g., fitness habits, travel interests, cultural tastes)
- h. Educational or professional background
- i. Other (please specify)

9. Are there specific types of people you generally choose not to date? If so, please describe.

10. What is the biggest challenge for you right now in your dating life?

Results

General

Other answers to How do you define your success on dating apps? (Select all that apply)

3

A month ago the only profiles I saw were verified and now nearly none of them are.

Average

Bad

Business partnership perhaps

Connecting with people physically should always be the end goal. Dating apps should always prioritize sexual relationships because anyone can make a friend outside of an app, anyone can discover themselves and their preferences outside of an app and there are specific places one can go for support regarding sexual identity which would serve one better than that. Also, unless it is your kink to just date and it going nowhere I think that feature should be put out. If someone has a bad experience with a person using the app they should be able to report it on the app.

Could be a range of things depending on my mood

Difficult

Doesn't happen.

Everyone I've met on here never answers or want you to pay for sex.

Fail

Fake as fuck

Finding a loyal relationship even for long distance

Finding cute studs

Finding someone to experiment without the stigma of mutual friends 'judging'.

Finding someone to talk to in general, I'm a lot of energy to take in and a lot can't handle it, even over text. I've got a bold, honest, and bullheaded personality and it throws people off guard to hear or see just how open I am and how little care I have if people judge me.

Found nothing and spent $50+ on the app

Fun

Haven't happened

Having a fwb

How do I define my success, this just sounds like what have you achieved not what you wish to accomplish or obtain

Honestly, a deep spiritual psychosomatic connection something so deep in psycho kinetic that it's untouchable. Also, this app needs to be free.

Horrible

Horrible since it limits way to much

How quickly the conversation ends

I don't have a definitive answer to this. I guess life will throw at me what ever it will and as long as I have a good time with the experience I'll call it a success. Personally I'd like to be in a successful long term poly relationship but I'm not going to refuse the happiness that is coming with my current situation and I'm going to live it to the fullest

I don't know where or what my definition of success is right now

I explained this

I have not had the greatest luck with it

I haven't had any success so far here

I miss when you would unblur likes for free.

I was hoping to find a long term relationship on a dating app but everyone seems to only want to hook up. I thought that was what Grindr was for????

I'm specifically looking for QPRs and possible co-parents for a parent-cule (non romantic)

I've had 0 success finding a real person to connect with.

I've had no success

I've had very little success

I've never had success on dating apps

Impossible

It's actually boring nobody be on nothing

It's not successful

Its trash

Live streaming to build interactions, COVID changed a lot so I pay for apps with that feature.

Matches

Meeting New Faces in Real Time.

Meeting new people

meeting someone I am actually compatible with

Meeting up in person, physical intimacy - that's the goal

My success? If there was such a thing I wouldn't care how it panned out, friends, fwb, one night stand, preferably a long term as that's my end goal but literally I'd be ok with virtually anything, however as I previously stated apparently Noone remotely close enough or within a feasible distance is interested or if they are want money before we've even met which sends up a whole slew of red flags. Or they just stop talking to me altogether for no reason whatsoever.

Na

Need improvement

No

No luck

No luck really

No success

No success

No success at all!

No success in finding even

No success. Too many guys make a new profile every week. And they act differently on different accounts. Guys tend to be abusive if you tell them you're not interested in their sexual advances and are disrespectful.

None of the above

None so far

Not good at all

Not much anymore. This site has changed so much

Not really getting to engage with many matches

Not really much. Almost everyone just wants sex and no connection.

Not well

Nothing

Nothing yet.

Ok

Only finding friends and bots on here are annoying

Only found horrible ppl

Polyamorous

Random hook ups (I'd prefer a relationship but beggars can't be choosers)

Relationship

Remove paywalls

Slim

Temporary partners or close friend occasionally

The app really isn't helpful finding a partner

There is no success everyone acts the same and wants just sex

There's no success on that because this app is full of DL dangerous man whore out to kill trans women

This app has not served its purpose they turned it into a dating app less dating now

This app sucks

Threesomes

Unsure

Way too many bots and fake profiles

We talk for a bit then it's done forever

Yes

✓ Other answers to How do you feel when you have not achieved the expected results on dating apps for some time? (Select all that apply)

A lot of catfish pple the apps need to do better with making sure that everyone's profile is verified far as identity

Annoyed; I am broadcast to and 'liked' by people I am not in to, such as Masc presenting males.

Annoyed. Boring apps you have to pay for which is why people lose interest.

Before covid I could get on any dating app and at the very least find real people nearby to talk to and would have to specifically try to find a bot, catfish etc. Not to mention the fact i didnt have to pay to use the fucking app they were all free save for eharmony and a few others. So it's beyond irritating that now that's all there is out there, its discouraging, frustrating, isolating, demotivating, and all around depressing.

Depressed

Depressed. You do it on purpose, everyone knows it's more profitable

Diamond dates are never in my city never in my state

Feeling the app. is a waste of resources (effort, time, money, etc.).

frustrated because I know part of the issue is that the dating app's algorithm is misunderstanding my taste in people

Hi

Hopeless, something wrong with me

I don't care

I explain this my situation is one of a kjnd

I feel like private pictures of mine may have been shared with fake and/or illegitimate profiles.

I have felt used in the past and lied to a lot

I think there are a lot of different feelings I've had as a result of not being successful on dating apps. Usually after not having success for a while I stop using them to try and mitigate the issues. One of the biggest problems that I run into is seeing someone else having successes like my partner can find several matches in a month well I may only match up with a few people a year and of them not very many can hold a conversation. I do see my partner struggle with having poor matches as well so it's not a completely one sided issue but it causes issues with the idea and process of using dating apps at all

I'm a horrible human being.

I'm enjoying people

I've always found dating apps to be poisoned by corporate greed practices. They don't want you to succeed, they want you paying them forever with no matches to show for it.

It feels pointless when I waste my time and it leads to nowhere meaningful or what I desire. It's sad and makes me not want to use any apps at all.

It would be nice if people would actually read bios instead of going based on looks

It's a dating app, it's not gonna be great

It's not like I build my life around digging apps success comes and it goes with all things, but I am nothing if not relentless at achieving my goals.

Jaded and a little bitter. Like I'm not enough.

Like an Alien

N/A

Needs more consistent individuals

NO

No

No way

ok

Rejected

Remove paywalls

Sad--I wish apps had options to check that were explicit about looking for people to have kids with, as well as more of a range of options geared towards ENM, ace and aro spec, kink, and other non-conventional (queer!) connections

Society sucks balls with Eurocentric beauty stand standards so in all reality, I don't have the patience to try to sit here and enjoy. My community of my community is absolutely shallow. Also, this app needs to be free.

The apps could encourage me more and provide support and advice for filling out my profile so that I'd have a higher chance of engagement

This app is filled with chasers.

Uninterested in the app

Very upset cause I have to keep paying for the app

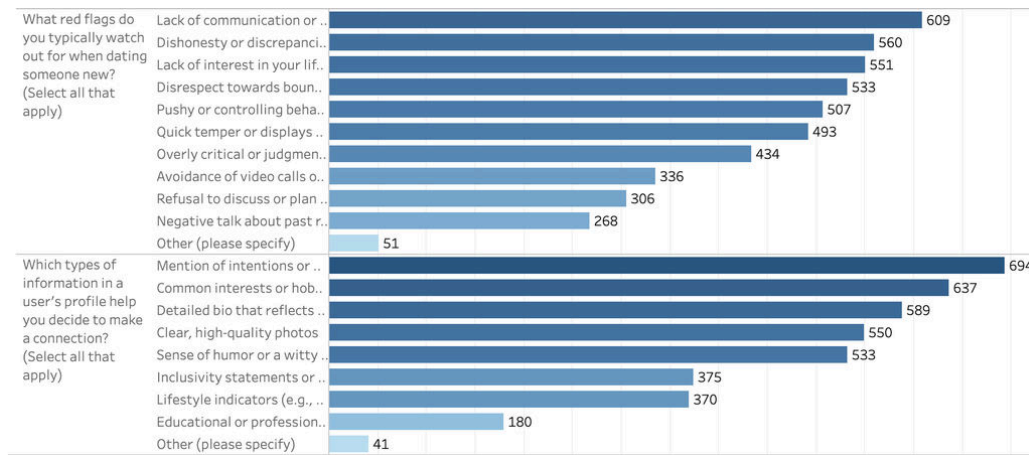

Worried for the future; Thinking, "What if it's already too late for me and I've missed my window?"

Yes

Your app.tells me I have potential matches but refuses to let them pop up.

- Users are using dating app to meet new friends and find long-term partners
- Lack of results on dating apps is very discouraging for users
- Only 11.6% of respondents have succeeded on dating apps (often and very often). 27.2% sometimes achieve success
- 47% of respondents are dissatisfied with their results on dating apps. Only 20.2% are satisfied.

✓ Other answers to What red flags do you typically watch out for when dating someone new? (Select all that apply)

All of thee above

Alot of undercover prostitutes

Always asking about the bank roll and money in my wallet or potentially profitable material goods I may have.

App sucks

Asking for money as soon as we start talking

Assuming negative things about me.

Avoidance of video calls is the biggest red flag for me. Says they're not who they say they are.

Being ghosted

Bots/ scammers

Can't say, haven't gotten into a relationship with a dating app

chasers are bit of a thing

General ability to communicate effectively

Generic bio descriptions i.e open book, (insert noun here) dad, HMU.

HOOK UPS.

I dont know because I can only like someone from their photo

I feel like this is rather case by case. One of the biggest things that I watch for is how they interact with people/objects that they don't directly value. Shopping cart test is a good one. Will they return a shopping cart to a stall with no obligation to do so? If not or if rude to waiters/wait staff or little things like that tell me the most about how likely they are to respect things with me they don't directly see the value in.

If he never been with a transsexual before, then he's dangerous

If they can't say for certain they would want to meet me in person we have nothing to talk about. The end goal of all dating apps is to, and should be to connect people physically.

If they only have 1 picture or if they don't want to video call

Immediate negative self-talk or constant mentions of depression

Inconsistently in messaging responses, aloofness

Lack of location

Lack of understanding or openness to my identities and experiences as a fat, trans, disabled, covid cautious, aspec, autistic person

Liars

Lies

love bombing

Materialism. It broadcasts a theme of greed and usury.

Men who claim to be bi or pan sexual in order to cast a wider net of afab matches who they see as "women"

N/a

n/a

Na

No

None

Not being loyal and avoidance of video calls

Not compatible

ok

Premiums features on Taimi feel like they are simply there to give users, legitimate or not, the ability to violate the privacy and boundaries of other users as I have experienced.

Regarding 6. Is lack of presentation people like using filters.

Remove paywalls

Seems like every one looking for just sex so I try to avoid those kind of ppl it gets in the way of trying to actually date

Sexually explicit photos that are public for everyone to view they're not even under the private banner

Siempre se tiene que pagar por cualquier cosa que quieras hacer dentro del app. Por eso no la uso

Straight men coming at me like I'm a woman when I very clearly state I am trans-masc nonbinary

The app doesn't allow for you to chat with people unless it's a mutual connection unless you plan on spending a decent amount of money in this troubling economic times

This app isn't free

Wanting me (a trans woman) to top them.

Wanting to use you for your Benjamin's.

What the hell

When they see me as Female rather than a male

Women offering themselves in exchange for monetary compensation

Yes

✓ Other answers to Which types of information in a user's profile help you decide to make a connection? (Select all that apply)

able to respect a boundary. education on correct terminology around transness

All play an equal part in my decisions.

Appearance

Appearance, mostly.

Being able to talk to another user

Being sex positive, having depth or showing acceptance and willingness to communicate

Close in proximity

Communication and speaking instead of just blocking or ignoring

Deep conversations

Diamond dates whenever my city or local

Distance from me

Don't get peoples hopes up

Evidence they put time and effort into their profile

For this app to be free

Gender identity, sexuality, disability

General attraction and interests

Having more then one photo is important and not having them be sexually suggestive. Being relitively close to me in age(usually around 5 years or less), having dating preferences listed so I know how to act and what to expect, listing out hobbies or interests that I can use to either connect with or use as fuel for conversation topics to help keep things flowing, and I'm not a big fan of weed or hard drugs so someone being honest about usage of those things is appreciated to help not waist everyone's time since those are harder to deal with.

High IQ, EQ and displays of intelligence.

I'm relatively certain that a number of profiles on Taimi, verified or otherwise are simply posing as and/or are circulating sensitive photos they've coerced from other users.

Location in relation to myself

Location near me

Man fuck you

Music taste

N/A

N/a

Near my area

ok

pets

Physical Attributes

Political bias/ dogwhistles

Remove paywalls

Sexual position top or bottom is key to know if we match

Specifies that they are strictly lesbian.

The pictures and about info. If I'm attracted ill initiate convo.

Them being consistent

There should be an option one can show their willingness to meet with their match in person. Both matches should specify a date on the app where they meet in person or do a video chat and if it does not occur the app should show the percentage of how likey others would actually be able to meet them. Once the two video chat the app should add that to the percentage marker, and once the two matches meet one another a proximity alert should be automatically sent to the app whereby the app can use to create the percentage markers, and likelihood of honesty to the effect of whether or not the person or persons will actually want to meet in person.

Verified profiles only

When they clearly put top/vers./bottom so I don't have to ask

Women with locs

Yes

You are an LGBT app. You need to have a position preference listing. Aka top, bottom, or vers. It is needed in order to find a partner who is compatible with you and incredibly frustrating getting to know someone just to find out you are not compatible in the bedroom.

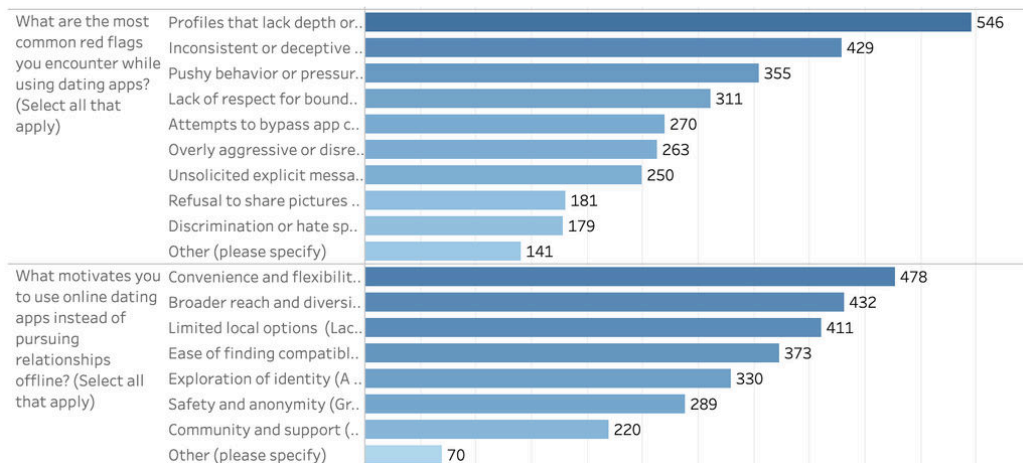

Most typical red flags when dating someone new are:

- Lack of communication or inconsistent messaging (65.6%)
- Dishonesty or discrepancies in their stories (60.3%)
- Lack of interest in your life or feelings (59.4%)

The most valuable pieces of information in user profiles are 1) Mention of intentions or what they are looking for (e.g., relationship, friendship) and 2) Common interests or hobbies.

While using dating apps, the most common red flags for respondents are 1) Profiles that lack depth or detail, suggesting a lack of seriousness (58.8%) and 2) Inconsistent or deceptive information in profiles (46.2%)

Convenience, flexibility and broader reach motivate users the most to use online dating instead of offline alternatives.

Other answers to What motivates you to use online dating apps instead of pursuing relationships offline? (Select all that apply)

No one in my area

To find friends or sb to hang out with maintenance for entertainment

Could be better with finding friends but not a partner because a lot of bots and not friendly people

There are not enough Caucasian females

The only choice I have really

Disability

Just seen it and gave it a try
How shit
The verification feature in Taimi is very sketchy seeming Massive anxiety.
I,Ãve had some bad experiences in the past so meeting someone from a dating site guarantees they are looking for the same thing I,Ãm looking for insuring I can,Ãt accidentally make someone uncomfortable or put myself in a vulnerable position with someone that isn,Ãt interested in me in any capacity
Helps me because I'm very shy and can't approach women in public
Remove paywalls
I honestly don,Ãt use this app I use tagged cause it,Ãs free
Screen shot protected
Lately it's been difficult for me to go places this I would definitely have to say is the main reason because there are people that follow me everywhere I go and they seem to be monitoring my phone so things have been difficult so I try to reach out for others like me but I have found on every single dating app I tried there are people blocking me from reaching anybody else because it's the same group of fucked up pysco wanna be therapists and nurses and cyber security folk seem to pop up and try to drive me crazy literally while somehow pretending they want to help me but they never speak to me when I just speak to them so I am pissed off every dating app I spend money on does this i am probably going to eventually have to sue them all for doing this because they have cause ALOT of trouble in my life and they think it is funny but the reality they do not realize who they are FUCKING with they have backed me into a corner this is my corner if they take it any further they will be responsible for any damage I cause to them or surrounding areas but I came in peace they took that away soon I am telling the truth they are going to realize they made a huge mistake
It's more accessible for me with my disabilities, trauma history, and covid cautiousness. Plus I like sexting.
Yup
Ok
I'm autistic and find it hard to get social cues, especially flirting.
Face to face interaction scary
Social anxiety
idk
I'm not using it for dating. I be bored
Live video/Live streaming
I be bored
Yes
Honestly not sure anymore
Bored at work
I do both pal
I don't know how to meet people in a social setting
Just don't find the time to go out and meet people, plus I haven't really ever gotten into the whole dating thing so it is awkward

Not much does. The men on here are allowed to be disgusting and disrespectful as well as abusive on here. 99% of the men on here are looking for sex only and immediately. So I don't use the app often. Guys also make so many profiles that I'm constantly rematch with them when they do.

Currently unemployed so it's difficult to meet anyone offline, although with dating apps such as yourself charging to not only message people but even see who it is that's showing an interest in you and specifically avoiding them when doing broad searches for matches instead of being a mostly free service, it's basically impossible to meet anyone that isn't a catfish, prostitute or thief. So yea big thumbs up to yall ☺️ you're doing such "good" work and "helping" so many decent people find love, good job. Well at least the thief's and prostitutes benefit from it huh? That's always a plus and positive attention getter for any reputable dating app ☺️

When you use the app it's less awkward and reassuring because everyone's on there to find someone, or as in person you never know if they're already dating or how they would respond to strangers asking for a date. Also, there aren't very many public places that can provide the services of an app such as this.

Im a single mother that's a homebody

I was curious but honestly this app is not the best since it,Äôs seem very money hungry

I,Äôm just bored

Boredom (the need to pass time)

Old fashioned way is better

I get to challenge the psyche of all humans who have a tendency to judge off of first appearance. Also, this needs to be free

I'm nervous

I have a hard time finding people interested in transgender men irl! Or plus size bodies. But I have no trouble online lmao

Shy in person

Night shift worker

I am broke and have no idea what to do as a heterosexual trans woman

People are interested in seeking something

Meeting new people other than people that I've seen in my area

No

The more open-minded nature of the app let's me approach dating in a way that feels much less constricting.

I like free dinner

Anxiety :)))

I'm just looking for more friends

I am not a hUman Being

Doesn,Äôt apply I just have it on my phone for when I,Äôm bored.

I don't know because it's a horrible idea

Just checking the app out as is different

Trying Something Different And Boredom

I take rejection poorly.

Just easier to meet people - I don't like bars so I miss that meetup chance.

Not everyone should get your physical vibe. Social media is a way to ween the bad out.

Allows screening of visually attractive people without personal interaction, less drama.

I still pursue relations offline.

At first because TAIMI WAS GREAT . NOWWWW it sucks even the profiles I push Exxon counts as one of the profiles I get to view which is stupid all adjustments you made you made it worse

Limited access to transportation to meet people irl

Just checked it out, Lotta cam girls, I am not a fan.

Dating apps are easier for transgender women like me

Need not to pay for everything

Nothing

✓ Other answers to How do you define your success on dating apps? (Select all that apply)

Only found horrible ppl

Average

Found nothing and spent $50+ on the apl

Matches

Only finding friends and bots on here are annoying

I've had 0 success finding a real person to connect with.

I ha e not had the greatest luck with it

I haven,Äôt had any success so far here

Fake as fuck

Not really much. Almost everyone just wants sex and no connection.

A month ago the only profiles I saw were verified and now nearly none of them are.

Way too many bots and fake profiles

I don,Äôt have a definitive answer to this. I guess life will throw at me what ever it will and as long as I have a good time with the experience I,Äöll call it a success. Personally I,Äöd like to be in a successful long term poly relationship but I,Äôm not going to refuse the happiness that is coming with my current situation and I,Äôm going to live it to the fullest

I've had no success

Remove paywalls

Could be a range of things depending on my mood

It,Äôs actually boring nobody be on nothing

Difficult

I explained this
Na
I'm specifically looking for QPRs and possible co-parents for a parent-cule (non romantic)
Not really getting to engage with many matches
Ho do I define my success, this just sounds like what have you achieved not what you wish to accomplish or obtain
Impossible
Ok
I was hoping to find a long term relationship on a dating app but everyone seems to only want to hook up. I thought that was what Grindr was for????
Relationship
I've had very little success
Not good at all
Live streaming to build interactions, COVID changed a lot so I pay for apps with that feature.
Its trash
Yes
No success at all!
How quickly the conversation ends
It,Ãs not successful
No luck really
Need improvement
There,Ãs no success on that because this app is full of DL dangerous man whore out to kill trans women
Finding someone to talk to in general, I'm a lot of energy to take in and a lot can't handle it, even over text. I've got a bold, honest, and bullheaded personality and it throws people off guard to hear or see just how open I am and how little care I have if people judge me.
Meeting new people
I don't know where or what my definition of success is right now
Doesn,Ãt happen.
No success
Everyone I've met on here never answers or want you to pay for sex.
No success. Too many guys make a new profile every week. And they act differently on different accounts. Guys tend to be abusive if you tell them you're not interested in their sexual advances and are disrespectful.
We talk for a bit then it,Ãs done forever
None so far
Not much anymore. This site has changed so much

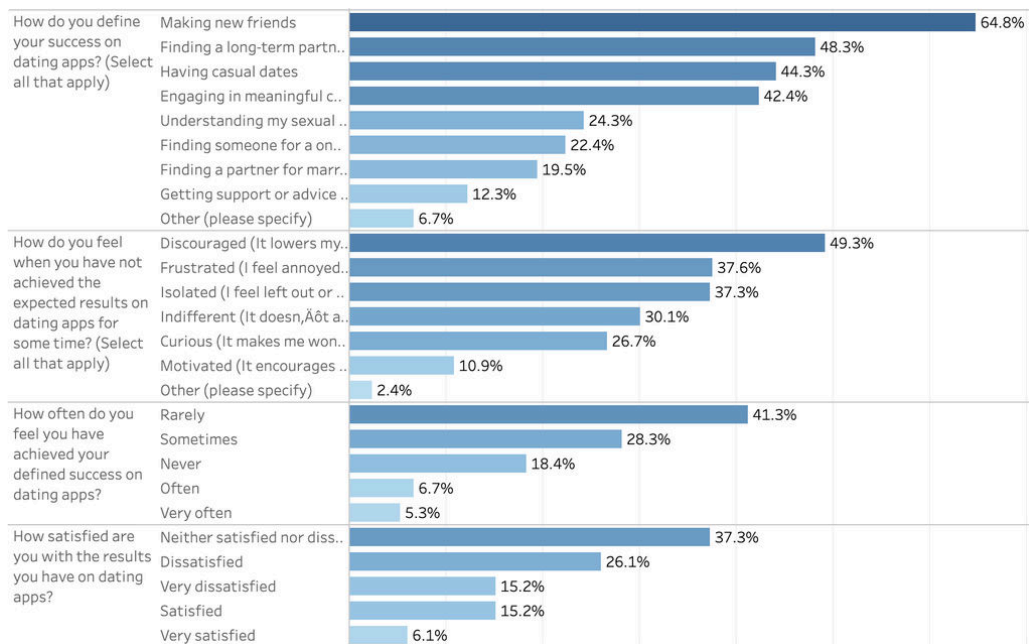

Fun
My success? If there was such a thing I wouldn't care how it panned out, friends, fwb, one night stand, preferably a long term as that's my end goal but literally I'd be ok with virtually anything, however as I previously stated apparently Noone remotely close enough or within a feasible distance is interested or if they are want money before we've even met which sends up a whole slew of red flags. Or they just stop talking to me altogether for no reason whatsoever.
Connecting with people physically should always be the end goal. Dating apps should always prioritize sexual relationships because anyone can make a friend outside of an app, anyone can discover themselves and their preferences outside of an app and there are specific places one can go for support regarding sexual identity which would serve one better than that. Also, unless it is your kink to just date and it going nowhere I think that feature should be put out. If someone has a bad experience with a person using the app they should be able to report it on the app.
The app really isn't helpful finding a partner
Horrible
Horrible since it limits way to much
There is no success everyone acts the same and wants just sex
This app sucks
Honestly, a deep spiritual psychosomatic connection something so deep in psycho kinetic that it's untouchable. Also, this app needs to be free.
Fail
None of the above
Slim
Unsure meeting someone I am actually compatible with No success
Not well
No
Polyamorous
Finding a loyal relationship even for long distance
Temporary partners or close friend occasionally
No luck
Business partnership perhaps
Having a fwb
Meeting New Faces in Real Time.
Threesomes
I miss when you would unblur likes for free.
Random hook ups (I'd prefer a relationship but beggers can't be choosers)

By age ↗

18-25

26-35

36-45

By gender: 🔗

- Men are looking for casual dates and meeting new friends. 48.5% are looking for a long-term partner.
- 55.4% of men are dissatisfied with their online dating results. 25% have never experienced their defined success in online dating. This is the least successful group so far.
- 33% of transgender women are satisfied with their results on dating apps, which makes them the most successful user segment.
- Women are consider making new friends to be a marker of success in dating. 20% are satisfied with the results, 41% - dissatisfied
- Non-binary prioritize making new friends and engaging in meaningful conversations over all other success options. 48% are dissatisfied with the results.

	52.4% of gay respondents are not satisfied with their results on dating apps. The majority of respondents define their success in dating by meeting new friends and finding a long-term partner.	28.1% of bisexual women are satisfied with their results on dating apps. They mostly experienced success when meeting new friends. Conversely, men define their success on dating apps as casual dates and long-term partnerships. 50% of them are dissatisfied with the results.	33% of transgender women are satisfied with their results on dating apps, which makes them the most successful user segment. The majority of transgender men said that for them success in dating means that they have found new friends (76.1%)	Queer men are looking for casual dates and ONS (but the sample of this group is small - 50 users)	Success for heteroflexible people is: casual dates, new friends and long-term partners. 59.8% of heterosexual respondents are not satisfied with their results on dating apps. This is the most dissatisfied group so far.
--	--	---	--	--	--

P2: What motivates you to use online dating apps instead of pursuing relationships offline? (results) 🔗

What motivates you to use online dating apps instead of pursuing relationships offline?

In general, all user groups are using dating apps because of their convenience and flexibility (ability to meet and interact with people anytime and anywhere, fitting dating into a busy schedule). However there are some specific groups in which identity exploration and safety are of higher importance than to others.

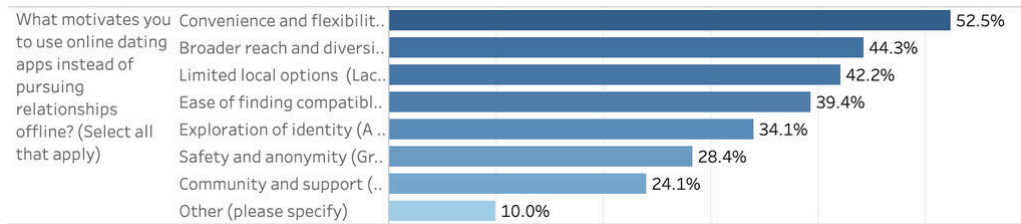

Lesbian	Gay	Bisexual	Transgender	Queer	Heteroflexible
			Men Women
		43% of bisexual users mentioned that they use online dating to explore their identity.	For transgender men, safety and anonymity are of higher importance (48%) than for other user groups.	Queer users use dating apps for the exploration of identity (A safer space to explore and express one's sexual or gender identity) - 52.5%

By age 🔗

18-25

26-35

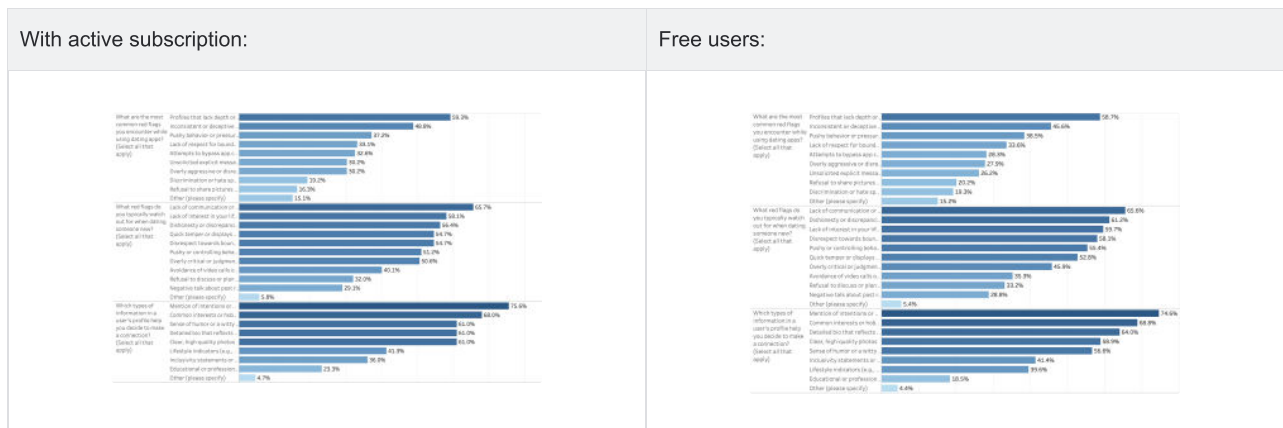

36-45

P3: Red flags and profile expectations results

By subscription status:

Subscribers value a sense of humor in user profiles more than free users. No other differences between these two groups.

By age ↗

18-25

Younger respondents chose Pushy or controlling behavior as a red flag in 45.3% of cases, which is significantly more than in other age groups.

26-35

36-45

By User Groups ↗

Lesbian	Gay	Bisexual	Transgender	Queer	Heteroflexible
		Men   Women 	Men   Women 	Men   Women
Red flags in dating online: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Profiles that lack depth or detail, suggesting a lack of seriousness</li> <li>Inconsistent or deceptive information in profiles</li> </ul>	For gay users, Pushy behavior or pressure to move too fast (50.8%) & Profiles that lack depth or detail, suggesting a lack of seriousness (50.8%) are the biggest red flags in dating online	When choosing the most helpful data in the profile, bisexual users rank Detailed bio that reflects personality and interests as high as Mention of intentions and Common interests or hobbies	For transgender men, Unsolicited explicit messages or images is a more common red flag in online dating than for other user groups	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>For Queer women, Disrespect towards boundaries or consent is the most common red flag when meeting someone new.</li> <li>63% of queer women mentioned that Pushy behavior or pressure to move too fast is</li> </ul>	Answers of this group do not vary from the general sample.

				the biggest red flag in online dating.
--	--	--	--	--	--

Open questions: 🔗

Anything else you would like to share about your dating experience?

✓ Answers:

A) make the all distance grid like Grindr (find nearby). B) top or bottom MUST be included in profiles along with a filter for that when trying to match , c) get rid of couples. I don't think this is what this app is for.

All apps are the same. I wish they would at least let you pick an option of seeing only profiles of women WITHOUT kids.

Apps are awful. So is this one because it advertises itself as sapphic/queer but it's majority is straight men..

Apps constantly change and it's frustrating and irritating.

Apps keep showing me lesbians or straight men when I put im ftm, no bueno

As a bi or pansexual man I do not feel that there is a safe place for me within the lgbt community. It's a joke that B is even included in the acronym

As a polyamorous person, I am not interested in meeting people who are monogamous. As a queer person, I am not interested in meeting people who are straight. I don't like that people who have liked me show up in my feed even if they do not match my entered requirements that should filter them out - you should offer a yes/no or range selection on how open people are to meeting people outside the specifications they put on the filter.

As a trans woman it has been hard as fuck

ASS AND PISS may be the city I'm in though

Awful,there is no respect and desperate people just want to fuck

Bad experience

Basically paying to find love

Be mindful of cisgendered straight people invading space that isn't theirs.

Because some demisexual, I don't feel any attraction towards people on the app. But it feels like most people are superficial and need images and photos to feel attracted. If there was a way search your filter or just the same sexuality it could be easier.

Been pretty good so far thanks

Being on the aromantic spectrum it is difficult to find people who are knowledgeable about my identities. Location also has a great impact on the likelihood of finding someone compatible and if you can't travel you feel really limited

Bring live back

Cant really stand the fact the moment someone likes me.... i will literally never find them later.

Caring and be careful

CHILL ON THE NOTIFICATIONS!!!!!!!!!!!! YOU SEND SO MANY AND I CANT TURN OFF SPECIFIC KINDS OF NOTIFICATIONS ITS SOOOOOO ANNOYING!!!

Constant string of cheating girlfriends. No consistency as to the reason either

Crap

Dating apps are amazing, little too expensive, that's why the keep deleting profiles n come back

Dating apps are no different than anything else. The more you use them the better you'll get at using them. But when it takes too long you're already jaded

Dating apps suck

Dating experience -0/10 every time I meet someone we just become friends

Dating is difficult because people have their own lives and so you have to reach out to people that you have no in person experience with. Also the platforms that people meet on have to keep things that would make it easier to find people behind a paywall so that way they can stay afloat as a platform and this often makes the platforms unusable without paying. And also makes it so that way even if you do pay you might not be able to reach someone because they didn't pay.

Dating is like renting in California. Pictures look amazing so you go see it in person first impressions seem great so you invest time effort and money only to realize you were paying for a version that was curated for you, then the true colors show but by then you already committed to much into it.

Dating is stupid. People write people off after one thing even though they won't look at why someone does something the way they do

Dating sucks.

Diamond dates will never local

Djdjdn

Done

Easy to get to know but find someone has patience to date me do the same things you did to get me, keep me. I get hit me bad by guys I not interested in them,i interested in women's only .

Fine

Fix the distance filter. I have mine set to 20 miles and I am still getting people that live over and hour or two away

Fix your app you greed bastard. Any basic thing has to be paid for, it's ridiculous.

For people to be open minded and considerate

For some reason this app keeps showing me straight guys that IDENTIFY as straight. I thought this was a gay dating app? I might as well use tinder or bumble. Get marketing. Just lie to the people using the app so you can make more money.

Ghosts

Great app. I'm not a fan of the boosting method. Some of us already pay a subscription. In my opinion a boost or 2 should be added into that package. It would motivate others to want to try it out & they will keep their subscription longer

Hard to explain the concept of nonexistence.

Having to pay to see messages that were sent to me only makes connecting more difficult

Hit or miss.

Honestly know that money plays a factor when on this app. But the half of the app will not even intervene

Horrible and I wish this nightmare would end

Horrid.

I am a trans man and I am only interested in men and masc non-binary people. I am consistently getting interactions from straight men despite the fact that I clearly have a full beard. It's also hard to narrow down to people within reasonable driving distance.

I believe Taimi has both deliberately and negligently verified less than legitimate profiles and photos with the directive to capitalize from their legitimate users both from their premium subscriptions and their sensitive photos.

I can't really find my type in the profiles that I see

I cant have one because you have to pay for everything but an actual profile

I currently don't have one at all

I don't like how Taimi limits the age range. I can't make my preferred range smaller than 21-28 so as someone who prefers someone older but only a few years age gap at most it's frustrating

I don't have dating experience

I don't have time for the b***** drama or game I'm too old for that

I don't think you can have any control over the attractiveness of anyone on here but there are a lot of Fugly bitches on this app!

I don't trust many people

i feel like somethings wrong with me when this few people swipe right on me

I found a guy I like and it's been going well!

I found my fiancé on this app

I hate all the very old people who like me because ew im young and 9/10 they are just scammers

I hate that we have to pay to get access to parts of the app that should be free.

I hate the fact that you have to pay to see who viewed your profile

I have been successful when I try to „date-date“ as in look for more connection than sexual relationships but I do so when I feel like I am able to manage the mental, financial, and emotional toll that dating entails.

I have found that most people that use dating apps don't use them for the right reasons. They only use it to gain followers for their social media

I have specified I am a trans masc man looking for a man. I see so many men who identify as 'straight' in my matches. As I am physically changing myself to male, I am not a good match for them and they are not what I'm looking for. Could do better there.

I haven't dated many people but every relationship I have had was bad because of me getting controlled, ghosted or manipulated

I haven't found anything on here due to disrespect or inconsistencies

I hope you make it possible to filter people by different profile aspects! Also, stop showing constant repeats of people I said no to. And: make it possible for people to put what they're looking for as something to match for in the profile and/or at the start of a conversation.

I also think there should be some sort of requirement for anyone saying they're a straight guy (for example) to get some kind of education and automatic questions when they say they're into men (for example) especially only trans men.

I just want it to be easier.

I just wish verification meant more than just a blue mark. No one seems to be legit anymore.

I like em nasty

I liked the original Taimi. The Taimi the came out at launch. Where we could post any profile pics and however many we wanted. Bring that back and I may buy the lifetime subscription.

I love being taken

I love hard but these people I end up with from the app and make things further off the app tend to be a bad shot I have no luck with consistency

I love this app. I think it provides a good inclusive atmosphere within the platform that makes it easy to talk to people.

I met one of my best friends on OKC

I miss the free silver days, it's hard to find the guys who liked me and my OCD is bothering me seeing the messages I can't erase.

I need a silver free week lol

I need people to be real human

I really love using Taimi because generally the people on it are very very nice. I have better luck here finding an emotional connection than I did on most other dating apps. Now I only use taimi and I'm not interested in using another dating app platform, because I like this one the best- I find more like minded and emotionally available people here than on the other dating apps. (Still a small number in general because that's just how it goes, most people are superficial by nature in general) but there are significantly more people on taimi looking for something more genuine than just hook ups. Yes the majority is still mostly people just looking to hook up, but I'm used to that in today's society unfortunately. Yay taimi!! <3

I really think I have something specifically wrong with me

I single and ready to mingle lol

I think it's frustrating and overall gives Taimi a money grubbing, negative image when matches are withheld from users. I had swiped through all the transwomen in my area. I brought this up to a Taimi representative, cuz I couldn't believe I had already swiped through all the transwomen users already. They told me to access more users I would need to pay PER CITY. That's insane. Every other dating app does that for free. The amount of gatekeeping matches behind a paywall makes me believe Taimi does not care about helping people find relationships, but more about offering less and getting more money in return.

I think this app was better before with more information on profiles

I wanna find a guys or girl who will understand my stuff and have patience like I will with them and I want to meet lesbians but more Masculine lesbian types.

i wanna love someone

I want to be able to make the age limit smaller than 7 years

I wish there was a rating system for people to see on others profiles.

I wish we could instantly text the person that likes and,leaves a comment instead of going through matches to see who the person was.

I would like to see some of the annoyance features removed from Taimi that make it difficult for me or my matches to find each other.

I would like you to restore international options for top tier users.

I would love for men to not have access to trans if it,Ãs fetishized or if there tranny chasers

I would love more details on how a specific apps algorithm works

I would love to see more kink on this app

I would never recommend the Taimi app because of its anti consumer practices.

I would really like if I didn't receive notifications of profiles who fall outside of the age or distance ranges that I have set for interested parties

I,Ãm also looking for a man I can cook for

I,Ãm only looking to date women/nb/femme-presenting people right now, and a lot of cis men come up on my feed.

I,Ãve been through abusive relationships so I,Ãm really guarded now

I,Ãve had a few great relationships but they,Ãve ended and I wish to get back to that

I,Ãve had very few relationships that have lasted

I'll be honest I need more black trans women in my feed

I'm 4'9 and I love a loyal person that keep it real at cost

I'm not having a good time

I'm not satisfied and the payments are too frequent to keep up. Once a month at an affordable price would be great not weekly

I'm ready for more of it

I'm very frustrated! Nobody else seems to be trying!!

I've been verbally assaulted a lot for being a transwoman. I've been called a lot of slurs because I didn't want to hook up with someone .

I've had no real dating experience in years cuz dating apps have gone downhill

I've resigned myself to being single for the foreseeable future. I only check dating apps once every few weeks, and all that does is remind me of how awful the experience is.

I've used this app for over a year in various cities and it's produced zero meet in person dates.

I've wasted over $400 in 2024 on apps and it hasn't led to one actual connection

If you're a single decent looking woman who loves baggage that comes in more varieties than harry potter jelly beans (very few of the bad flavors, at least that you'll have to actually deal with or acknowledge) and you're reading this and you want a straightforward and blunt friend that's laidback beyond belief as well as open minded and within a 45-60 minute drive from me, hit me up ☐üòÄ otherwise I hope my survey makes you curious then pity me then angry then stop and go wait what the f? Then laugh and finally sit back and go, "well that certainly was an interesting survey this guy actually seems pretty cool and legit." Cause if it did then I demand (sly smirk) [puts pinky finger to corner of mouth] one million dollars (begins snickering) well have a great day and btw I was 100% honest through thus entire survey believe it or not. ,úâÔ[]è deuces ☐üòä

In general the alphabet mafia is inclusive and if you don't fit into any of the areas that have been made for the box for you to fit into they really don't care so much for a loving community

It has not been particularly easy

It honestly has been very 50/50 the app is good but it still follows the terrible template of other apps of a practical pay wall

It is great that Taimi specifically allows for searching for individuals that identify as Trans. This makes connecting with these individuals much easier and better chance of building a relationship

It is really hard to find a decent guy to talk to when you were a trans. Most of them are bottoms and I,Äô'm a bottom. What does that look like to bottom having sex?

It just hasn,Äôt been good

It never existed. Women don't take dating seriously, and focus too heavily on how much money a person has. They don't even use the app, or even swipe right often on average people.

It really shows on how people really sees me and how they interact with me it,Äôs kinda funny

It seems like everyone that's interested is too far away to do anything about it. I also don't think I'm being shown a lot of local profiles

It sucks

It sucks and your app sucks

It varies based on race and gender identity and I find that so cumbersome.

It would be great if I didn,Äôt have to repeatedly see the same profiles over and over and over again.

It would be nice to find a long-term relationship

It,Äôs an adventure

It,Äôs been bad for me I try to chat with people it,Äôs going good than I get ghosted and it ends up going nowhere and some people just message you to spam junk for a dating site or something that is different than these ones

It,Äôs been difficult to find men that have old school values. Like taking a girl on an actual date. Opening doors for women . Actually want to make sure she is comfortable and safe. They just want to come to my place and hookup and never hear from them again. It,Äôs frustrating. So I tend to just chat on here when I,Äô'm bored.

It,Äôs been kind of rocky so I have nothing to say about it at the moment

It,Äôs been very interesting

It,Äôs difficult. But my brother and his wife met on a dating app so I know there,Äôs someone out there for me

It,Äôs hard out here

It,Äôs honestly to depressing

It,Äôs opened up a lot of doors for me

It,Äôs sad

it,Äôs uncomfortable that people my grandparents age can message me explicit things without me even liking their profile

It's a big fucking bullshit nightmare

It's all the same, regardless of platform. Illustrating that the common denominators are me and the men I've interacted with. One or both of those denominators are dysfunctional.... □ü$Σ□üè°,Äç,ôÄÖΠè

It's been a disappointing waste overall tbh, I hope someday I'll be strong enough to stop using any/all of these apps.

It's deflating to know that, time and time again, I get no response from people I've matched with(I always message first and I'm very respectful)

it's fairly infrequent

It's frustrating receiving likes or messages from people outside of my preferred age range. Why is there an option in the app to set this preference when people sometimes decades outside of that range can still interact with your profile and even show up in your feed?

It's frustrating that the only matches I get are always super far from my county.

It's not great □üò#

Its been trash but your app has me find some cool hookups , yall should make an app for that , your interaction time would be pretty high based on how many females sell themselves and how many men would purchase , i also think the paying for messages thing is a bit weird , feel like it keep some good ppl from being able to interact with each other unfortunately, wish there wasnt so many pay options , maybe offer the ability for them to make call and extra amount of hidden photos if they wanna pay one monthly subscription fee (semajae74@gmail.com)

Its fun seeing people

Its going great

its horrible in ur 30s

Just fuck up

K8nky as hell

Learning myself n what I want with a partner

Live life enjoy life to the up most no matter what.

Lots of cis-men on the app that try to connect with u when this app is not for that and it,Äôs aggravating.

Love it so far!

Man, it's rough in these streets.

Men suck.

Most apps are scams only trying to make af much money as possible.

Most issues concerning dating or the pursuit of it are chalked up to superficial understanding and depth of soul.

Most just want to have fun nothing serious.

Most men get weeded out so I'm not super motivated to game it

Multiple sexualities should NOT be allowed for selection. It seems to me people use this misinformative option to cast a wider net and then tend to proceed in disrespectful ways regarding those who do not identify in ways that they prefer to actually date.

My biggest complaint with Taimi is the repetition of people that I have declined and the fact that 99% of the people shown to me of an ethnicity that I'm not attracted to

My dating experience here is not the best ppl don't read profile guys don't give all there details on there profile the system should also stop them from making multiple accounts and the app need more features so that I can express myself in a post status that they take away allow ppl to go live advertise that the site is more for dating rather then just hook ups

My partner is amazing and I love them

N/a. Im personally starting to dislike this app.

Nah

naw

Need more sex positive dating apps

Need more variety and less restrictions on the dating apps.

Need to not pay for everything

No dates

No I'm good thanks

No it's been horrible

No not at all

No not really

No, long survey btw

No!

No.

No. And honestly why so personal with the questions? Bet your married but even then it sounds like your trying to get with me over a survey, creepy. ( JK DO YOUR JOB STOP READING THIS XD )

Nobody gives me a chance because I'm short and ugly and when they do they are rude and self-centered.

Nobody looks like their pictures.

Nooo

Nope

Nope amazing app

Nope! you're app rocks! have visible banner for inclusion LGBT etc BIPOC will bring more people to the platform that's why there here it will be more inviting

Not at the moment

Not at the moment it's happening on your app to so IF you are not aware even though I know you are you should change this before it's to late and one more thing how come you don't show my interest you keep showing men and genders or that I am not interested in your site is the same very dishonest to say the least am I a joke to you?

Not at this moment

Not at this time

Not great

Not ne

Not really

not really just annoying at times

Not really.

not sure

Not that I can think of, just the world renowned and agreed upon, I wish men had more respect.

Nothing else yet

NV

Online dating has never gone well for me. I have been doing it for 7 years and have never gotten a date. I'm mentally ill and I know most queer people are too. Online dating is very unhealthy for so many of us but it also the only option we have. Nothing can be done to change that no matter what my survey shows you, not until the world changes.

Other (please specify)

Overall my experience using dating and hookup apps has actually been very positive! It's nice having a way to more efficiently find people that I may like or may like me, considering how little free time I have from work!

People judge and assume a lot and majority of people have been contaminated to believe false narratives and have a lot to learn

Please bring back group chats

Please fix the apps algorithm. People I,Ãove swiped left on continue to show up in my feed/shows me people in other states far away

Please make notification settings permanent so that I am not forced to turn off notifications entirely.

please recommend me someone who is young and near me :(

Please respect the filter settings that I put in place. Despite my filters being set to include people between 30 and 40 years old, I am getting tons of users who are outside of that range showing up in my feed. Dealing with so many overly sexualized messages from much older or younger men makes me want to stop using the app.

Scams and spam are annoying

Self destruction

So far no dates but it's only been 3 months on this App.

So far so good

So many dating apps have changed to a subscription or "pay to play" model of doing things and I think this is very limiting to actual people looking for good quality relationships

Some apps are easier to work with and find people who are actually what I am looking for and are down for what I want and accept who I am

Some apps I just cannot afford for basic features. OkCupid is the best option so far for dating, and Taimi for casual. The others are a waste of time.

Still dating lol

Still waiting

Stop making us pay for things and more people will use your app

Stop putting things behind paywalls. Remove scammers that are super obvious

Stop showing me the same profiles I've already liked or dismissed previously. I'll be deleting the app soon if you keep doing that.

Stop turning my notifications back on for promotional shit. You force in app notification settings so you can turn the settings back on. It's gross, it's predatory, and it shoots you in the foot. If you keep turning it back on, people will turn off all notifications through their phone. They don't want marketing notifications so they don't get any notifications. Then they forget about your app. Let people turn off promotional notification, you ass

Sucks

Taimi generally isn't a great app but the app options are very limited. It tries to do too much, crashes often, and often glitches.

Taimi has been the best dating app so far, even if I've only met 4 people from it

Taimi is a safe space filled with all sorts of good people to connect with and talk to.

Taimi is a wonderful app, I have more success here than anywhere else but PLEASE regulate the amount of chasers/straight people. It's half the profiles at this point.

Taimi is great but I love to be able to get creeps actually banned

Taimi is horrible

Taimi is the absolute worst dating app I have ever used. This is not the kind of app that I as a queer woman want. No one on there meets, no one has anything about their interests in their bio. Your filters are terrible. I should be able to select an age range and have it actually show me people only inside the range. Every woman on there is either looking for friends or has a boyfriend. You've successfully managed to make an app that no actual queer women will have success on. Do better.

Taimi seems to be only recommending me polyamorous couples. I have nothing against that but even with the choice of mono/poly in the vibes category, I'm not recommended other monogamous individuals or people actually looking for a relationship.

Take down the app

Take this app off the app store

Thank you

Thank you for inclusivity

Thank you!

The app is full of men who get upset that there are beautiful trans women like me who do use the app so they normally report the trans women profiles of false narratives to get our profiles sucking down, so can you guys please be aware of trans women who use the app who get lots of reports by men that mean, the men are very insecure of the trans women in trying to get the trans women account down because the trans women triggers The so-called men who come on the app interesting us

The app is REALLY bad at taking a look at what a person is and what their preference is and pairing that against other users that match your search that are searching for you. As a cis male seeing lesbians is just an overall waste of everyone's time. That's not the only example but it stands out the most and is one of the biggest problems. I should never see someone that I can never fit their search perimeter for like that.

The app just sucks you have to pay for everything.

The app needs to allow users to filter things more easily so that they don't get likes or views from people who are completely outside their boundaries

The app Taimi is absolutely horrendous. Worse than most apps out there.

The app used to be great. I recommended it to a lot of friends. But lately it's more about your profits than the user experience and it shows.

The apps are all full of bots and fake accounts the free version of this app is almost unusable. It's so frustrating that so much of it is behind a pay wall with no free trial or like discounted first week/month to try it

The free versions of dating apps haven't been a pleasant experience for me. I have no logic reason to pay for a premium service on an app that doesn't allow a filtering option for me to find people interested in people like me.

The men on Taimi are actually lacking enough braincells to think of anything besides sex

the old Taimi that was more like a social media site as opposed to a tinder clone was a lot better imo

The range filter is awful it keeps showing me people states away when I have it set to like 30 miles

There are lots of profiles that are just looking for friends, and quite a few profiles pretneding to be single women only to have a hetero couple.

There is a serious ghosting problem, even if you just say something like hi, or any other conversation starter they either read it and don't reply, or just reply 1 or a few times and then stop.

There needs to be better control of how many profiles are made and also better matching system. I'm looking for single, monogamous, long term. But usually get couples, polyamorous, or married men or men already in a relationship. And often there is no information about those things on the profiles. Too many guys are sexual and send dick pics immediately. Men need moderated on here better.

There really needs to be a way to filter by sexuality, when dating I don't want lesbians or straight men in my feed, it is pointless because my gender is incompatible with their sexuality

There's multiple ppl that have told me it's ok if I wasn't actually 18.

There's nothing to share. I've never officially dated anyone before.

They are horrible

This app has depressed and frustrated me to no end. I'm highly considering deleting it and warning everyone not to use it

This app is great please never make any big dramatic changes

This app is mid

This app is very money driven , you can see messages , you can't reply nor see who views . This app is not friendly at all and it makes it frustrating to the point of not using it or even thinking of deleting

This app needs to be free

This app sucks and the algorithm needs to change

Though using dating apps for me to purposes have been grossly misjudged I think they could still use improvement, as with all things. Also, I would like to add emphasis on my opinion that all dating apps should be used to the ends of connecting people physically or they should not be considered dating apps.

To much money stop showing me the same people

Too many flakes and ghosts

Too many unicorns

Trans

Veteran discount

Way too many people advertise their socials and ask for money to interact.

We need more people to be open minded

We shouldn't have to pay to see who likes us

Went through everyone near me and didn't connect with anyone

When I block someone stop showing them in my messages feed. They need to disappear

Wish I could find someone that would love me for me and bots and fake people on apps are annoying

Wish I could truly find the right one even if it's just a friend

X

Yea it's the worst bc you guys make us pay for the stupidest shit... plenty ppl loving me n I cant even see them which is lame. And you got to pay to see LIKES AND VIEWS??? Which is wild. There ya go.

You need to find people that are actually close to me

You,Ãre too expensive

Your app is too expensive

Your app sucks I hate it

Are there specific types of people you generally choose not to date? If so, please describe.

✓ Answers:

24-30 sexuallt open. Emotionally experienced. Short, petite.

99% men regardless of cisness....just not my cup of tea

Aggressive cocky liars

Aggressors/ dominant in the way they first speak to me.

All the guys that use dating apps for the sole purpose of hooking up.

Already in a relationship, couples. Disrespectful and abusive. If they are only looking for sex of send nudes/dick/ass pics.

AMAB people

Any

Any prejudice or discrimination won,Ãt work with me

Anyone looking for hookups. Polyamorous people. Broke guys

Anyone overly sexual, or who has a dead animal in a picture.

anyone significantly older than me

Anyone who is overly negative in their bios or someone who doesn,Ãt share pictures of themselves.

Anyone who opens with disrespectful language. People who want to immediately have casual sex without even communicating for at least a week or more. People who use heavy drugs

Anyone who seems like they definitely voted for Trump

Anyone with overly curly hair as if we have a kid I don't want to have to deal with that.

Anyone younger then 30

As a Gynosexual I tend to avoid masc presenting individuals when it comes to dating.

As a preference, I prefer healthy fit, people. If you do not care about your own body why should I. That being said, some people look good with a little more weight on them than others. These things are very subjective, but I think the app could do more to suggest people based off of physical characteristics that have been chosen by the users already. I think dating apps as a whole does a bad job of adjusting matches. For example, if I always put a like on people with specific physical characteristics it shouldn't be difficult for the app to suggest only people with those same characteristics. Also, if I put that I live in Fort Wayne and I do not drive the app should not be able to trust people who live in other countries unless I approve. The app also should not be able to match two people who have no ability to meet one another person. For example, if I specify do not drive, and the other person does the same but we both believe hours away the app should not be capable of matching us, because this feels like a tease. When the app does things like this often it makes me contemplate deleting it which I have had to do in the past.

As of right now, only transgender men only because I think that I just don,Ãt connect well with them

Assholes

Because I am demisexual I need to trust the person before I can be with them in any mature and committed capacity.

Bi girls, cheaters, liars, no photos, sounds judgemental.

Bigger guys

Bisexual or fwb or exploring

Bisexual women

Bisexual women and men

Black men

Black people

Black people. I'm not attracted to them at all.

Blonde people

boring

Bots. So many fake accounts.

Cam girls

Can I lesbians yes I, I'm attracted to them, but they, I'm not what I, I'm looking for because they, I'm interested in just women I, I'm bi I, I'm interested in men and women you can say poly. I won't date women who are not being rude bigger than me by one 3135 style goes one 4145. It, I'm just my preference, but I also have to see their personality.

Can't write it will sound racist

Catfish profiles or solicitors

Caucasian people

Chads/College Bros

Chasers

Chasers, jocks, people who seem above it all

Chasers; most cis people

Christians who are looking for other Christians. People who are way too political. People with no jobs. People who don't take care of their health. People looking for long-term or life partners. People looking for money or wanna be spoiled.

Cigarette smokers I don't smoke cigarettes

Cis

Cis gender men, transgender women

Cis men

Cis men (straight), trans men, and non-binary (amab).

CIS men or masculine men I like feminine men but not CIS bearded men

Cis men that are 20+ and women because I'm gay. I personally and looking for a Trans man my age cis men that for some reason will not respect that on this app.

Cis men, especially in a military town

Cis men. Not interested in teaching them how to be a person

Cis or Trans Men

Cis straight men lol

Cis women. I prefer queer relationships (I am a transman)

Cis-women & Transgender Women are always the primary focus. This is due to my sexual orientation which effects my intentions overall.

Cisgender heterosexua

cisgender men

Cisgender people and people only attracted to one gender.

cisnet men. i,Äöve been exposed to too many dangerous situations with them.

Cishet or bicurious men. I don't have the patience to be somebody's test bed.

Close minded people

Conservative, religious, bigoted

Conservatives

Conservatives and cis men

Conservatives and/or people who are closed minded.

Conservatives. □üëè□üè<sup>a</sup>

Controlling, non communicative, and disrespectful

Couples

Couples I am not interested in a throuple

Couples who are looking for a third. Men.

Couples, conservatives/centrists, „Äcurious,Äù DL men.

Damaged poet.

Demanding or overly confident and prideful people, they usually are the ones so full in themselves that they won't even let you speak even though it's your house and you're the hostess. How do I know this? Because I've had people like that in my house.

Depressed and negative speaker

Difference in dating interests

Disrespectful and speaking down people

Disrespectful looking for just fun (sex) moving way to fast

Distance

Do not talk to your ex

Drug addicts

Dumb people and people who don't believe in God

Either unwilling to share info a out themselves or oversharing as to not care for info about me

Empty bios or aggressive words

Facial hair

Fake uninterested ppl

Fat people

feminine females and males

feminine guys

feminine people, because i'm looking for masculine men.

Feminine-attracted men. I've been disrespected too many times to bother trying again.

Fems and Straight

Fems. I prefer masculine people.

Folks that are twice my age or folks that have little to no info in there bio.

Fuck boys and downlow men or closeted men. Married men also.

Gender fluid

Generally individuals I,Äô'm not attracted to and that don,Äôt match my personality or appreciate it

Generally not physically or psychologically attracted to black/AA or Asian/Polynesian men.

Generally speaking, the ones that cross boundaries continuously and don,Äôt pay mind to consent normally the ones I steer clear of.

Ghetto people

Gold Diggers

Gold diggers and scammers

Guys

Hateful people, negative people, People who are Pushy, entitled guys just because you match it doesn,Äôt mean you have to like them you,Äô're still judging their behavior towards you.

Hdhdcj

Heavy set people

Hello

Homophobic people

Honest

Honest & spontaneous

Honestly cis straight men

Hookers and scammers. Unfortunately, that,Äôs most of the dating pool it seems on this app.

Husky men with glasses!

I actively avoid people who are much older than me or seem to not respect my gender identity. Such as straight men wanting to have sex with transgender men.

I am trans so I tend to stay away from other trans. I like the masculine men.

I avoid dating cis people and anyone that likes going to bars/clubs.

I avoid men younger than me or men who have wildly different lifestyles ie: clubbing or traveling. I also tend to avoid men who use filters and have no clear picture of their face.

I avoid people that just want money but there are so many if them. I avoid wasting peoples time if i don't fit their requirements they list which i often dont. I have to avoid people who are clear that they are submissive because i am as well so it wouldnt work we wouldnt be compatible.

I choose not to date people who are in relationships, specifically those that are looking for threesomes. Also, people who are fatphobic or don't like black people

I choose not to date polyamorous people due to my ex.

I choose not to date ppl that,Ãs only looking for sex

I don,Ãt date Cis straight men. Bc they lack any emotional depth or empathy. Always ends badly.

I don,Ãt date fat and people who smoke weed

I don,Ãt date outside my race

I don,Ãt date people who are looking for hook ups, go out too much, or are pessimistic on their profile

I don,Ãt date ugly people that,Ãs a NONO I also don,Ãt date over weight people

I don,Ãt date white people, and rarely entertain men or cis people

I don,Ãt do fat men

I don,Ãt like people who looks too masculine,just feminine

I don,Ãt mind dating but since it,Ãs been hard I really don,Ãt care to date

I don't date polygamous people. I don't like the idea of sharing my special someone.

I don't have any specific types

I don't know

I don't understand the question

I dont specify

I generally choose not to date people that come off as overwhelming/overbearing or individuals that appear to be lying about their identity (I.e. not actually trans female/non-binary as it has happened in the past)

I just don't like dudes.

I just prefer girls that look like myself

I love all men

I love looking into astrology, and i know fire signs and air are questionable, i also avoid the ones with straight in there bio. I wish i didnt see those

I need some human

I only date women who identify as black or latina.

I personally am not into studs or lesbians or trans. Mostly into Bisexual Women

I personally choose not to date people who are just plain weird when having a conversation and people who just want to have sex

I prefer not to date people who present more femme, and I do not date people who are not into video games.

I prefer to not date straight guys, anyone with a beard or anyone over 23

I really don't want to sound bad, but I've no romantic feelings for females

I strongly believe Taimi fails to protect the privacy and safety of LGBTQ+ people.

I tend to not even bother with profiles that have one Pic and no bio. This is usually a sign they are a bot account.

I try not to match with people that identify outside of my sexual preferences, and with those who do not match my lifestyle to an extent

I try to avoid amab people !!

I try to be open minded

I want a monogomous girlfriend, so people who dont fit that arent who I'm looking for

I won't date people who are vanilla as in basic. Liking food and watching tv are not unique personal traits.

I won't date straight men and generally won't match with them. Initially I stayed open to matching for friends or coparenting but unfortunately the sheer level of ignorance, misgendering, and harassment just made it not worth it. PLEASE make it possible to remove some orientations from potential matches!!! I still get about 1/3 suggested straight men in my matches and it's a huge waste of time and morale. It's allowing them to misgender and harass people like me.

I wouldn't date anybody that is shorter than me. I don't like women that are badly built. Nor do I like darkskin women.

I'm black so I like to stay within my race because I notice I relate better

I'm not into hairy dudes but I like cute ones and I can't be with someone if they refuse to be healthy and let themselves get to a very unhealthy weight

I'm not very attracted to a larger male physic and I have no interest in people who sexualize themselves or smoke weed or do hard drugs.

I'm very open

I'm 18 so I don't speak with the most experience but I generally avoid older men that immediately text me with sexual cheesy one liners or just one thing in mind. Which is like, most of them.

I'm a lesbian so I don't often date men

I'm not a big outdoorsy person so if people like camping or hunting I try to avoid them

I'm not into couch potatoes or people that only want to game. I also don't like aggressive behavior or people who assume too much intimacy or commitment from me as practically a stranger.

I'm not into hunters, very athletic people, folks who just want to go to night clubs and party.

I'm not picky.

I'm pansexual so I'm open to people on all areas of the gender spectrum. It's a case by case basis.

Idk, straight guys?

If they are autistic and don't have nothing going with their self

If they look unkept in all of their photos that's a no go.

If you can't smile in a photo or flip off the camera it's a sign of immaturity and toxic traits.

Immature people, others just looking for hookups.

Inconsistent or incorrect use of terminology for sexuality and gender identity.

Inconsistent people

Intentions for wanting kids or have children, etc

Judgemental people who say "swipe right if you voted for this person"

Kinky, and horny people who look for a one night stand or seeking for a third person for a polyamorous relationship. Or someone who blows you off mid conversation.

Lack of communication

Lairs

Larger men. Bears.

Latin American girls

Males or males that dress up to be a woman that is obviously a male

Manipulator & narcissist

masc

Masc male

Masculine and dominant types

Masculine featured individuals.

Masculine looking people

Masculine partners. I have to label myself as Pansexual, but I am only interested in effeminate male partners. 90% of my notifications are masculine men.

Masculine people

Masculine presenting people.

Masculine women

Materialistic people

Megan Thee Stallion, Cardi B & Nikki Minaj look alikes!☹️

Members of the military, cops, married people, closet cases, white men. All for my own safety and/or peace of mind.

men

Men , poly couples and bisexual women.

Men (I am Sapphic)

Men and crossdresser. Trans men

Men and studs

Men and studs, and women that don't look clean on their pictures

Men because I like women

Men of color or black man who killed trans women

Men or too masculine presenting. People who have little to no info on their profile

Men over 25 and women

Men that list "straight" as their identity but still swipe right on me as a transgender man.

Men, I,Äm not gay. Younger African American women because they are the most common scammers from experience.

Men, people who don't like transgender people and racist.

Men, people who don't seem to have ambitions, and people who seem irresponsible

Men, trans women, they/ thems, couples

Men; I like women and femmes

men.

Men. I don't mess with men.

Men. I,Äm straight

Monogamous folks, it'd be nice if I could filter out people who had explicitly selected that.

Moslty hispanics

Most definitely and if they don,Ät have more than one photo I keep swiping

Mtf trans women and cis gender men

Narcissist

Narrow minded, bigoted, judgemental

Nasty old man. Or crossdressers who look ugly

No bio, cis male, no location

No I have an open mind . I date based off of personality.

No I'm open for whatever a person may be but I don't like people way older.

No men

No not particularly

No not really.

No one who identifies as straight or is under 25

Nope. Open to all

Not mature

Not really

Not really just looking for someone to like me back

Nothing in particular just what a cutie ☹️

Nothing on profile or no photos

NV

Often I find that Cis men and cis women are very prejudice towards lgbt individuals.

Oh that,Ãs funny I don,Ãt date

Old people

Older or heavy set

Older or younger people. I have a maximum of a 5 year+/- age gap in people I chose to date.

One's that are in a poly relationship

Ones who have there nudes on their profile. It instantly tells me what they are here for

Ones with political or economical statements in their bio, even if we agree on them

Open

Other (please specify)

Out of my race

Over 22 and I can,Ãt escape them here And they can text you before you even like them it,Ãs like a open door for them
There,Ãs no other good queer apps it,Ãs awful

Over 30ish,if I don't interact first

Overly political, constantly online (lack of offline life), or no hobbies/interests outside of video games.

Overly sexual people

Overly sexual people. People who just want sex and then they ghost you.

Pay for play and "parTy" seekers.

People below 24 (I'm 27), are very busy, or aren't yet out as queer.

People I don't find visually or emotionally attractive.

People I won't date are smokers or people who have piercings and atheist.

People I'm not into

People just looking for friends

People more than 10 years older or younger than me, and people that would be described as "conservative".

People not in the age range selected

People older than me by about 10 or more years. People that don't look like they'd be good at talking, or having boundaries

People only looking for hook ups or sex. People that only have one picture and no bio.

People that are biased against race or sexuality

People that are selfish and all for themselves. Choose not to care about others feelings and give respect where respect is due.

People that are too flashy with no personality

People that aren't near my age 19-21

People that doesn't have good quality photos and that doesn't accept video calls first

People that drink and smoke and do drugs

People that drink and/or smoke excessively (I do not drink or smoke at all and am not comfortable around cigarettes nor large amounts of alcohol), people out of my age range, and someone in a complete stage of life than me (childish or immature, or people who are much more mature than me; have serious careers, kids, or just have been through stuff that I can't even imagine).

People that I don't share interests with. Or people that have hostile views towards my identity. People that don't really engage in conversation or plan things I also tend to avoid.

People that judge too quickly, or judge someone based on their past

People that take pictures of themselves in their messy rooms. Cleanliness is helpful.

People wanting to be "spoiled" people who are "straight acting" or chasers. i am also not looking to date anyone closeted or not financially independent

People who are a lot older than me or who are not accepting

People who are basic, rude, come off as misandrist, sound like they hate people, or brag about having too many matches

People who are constantly negative about things

People who are far right politically or against lgbt+ rights

People who are just here to get followers on IG or they are trying to sell themselves for sex.

People who are just trying to fuck

People who are overly interested or overly uninterested

People who are overly sexual with their pictures, and people who appear immature

People who aren't comfortable with themselves.

People who aren't that funny

People who ask me to pay for the date without setting a plan, people who are rude, and people who are self-centered.

People who can not write a grammatically correct sentence. People who seem to be full of drama

People who can't hold a conversation

People who disagree with things like lgbtqia issues, or they lean into ideology of certain political candidates, be it racist beliefs, misogynistic beliefs, things of that nature.

People who do too much drugs.

People who don't know how to communicate.

People who don't match my interest or type.

People who don't post pictures of themselves

People who don't respond

People who don't show empathy or self awareness are huge red flags. I won't date people that are hardcore into hookup culture as that shows lack of self respect and commitment.

People who force their political views on me/others. People who disrespect my choice to not have sex.

People who have no information given

People who I feel use other peoples pictures then changing it to there's when I match with them people who look like scammers

People who look like they are a catfish or are flaky .

People who look/claim to be radically liberal, people only looking for ONS or visiting, unfit people

People who only want sex

People who sell their online personalities or content/OF.

People who think they're better than everyone

People who's sexuality is not aligned with my gender presentation

People with aggressive body language or middle fingers in their profile photos. People showing or referencing smoking or weed in their photos. People whose primary characteristic on their app is showing off a car/jewelry/wealth indicators. People who message me with aggressive, demanding, or transphobic language.

People with beards tend to turn me off.

People with lots of private photos no face pics

People with only one photo.

People without an educational or professional background, no hobbies, no clear high quality pics, no sense of humor

People without pics , people without social media , DL

Personally I tend to date people that are close to my ethnicity.

Persons who identify as Asexual. Just because we wouldn't be able to maintain any kind of relationship that I'd want to be a part of.

Polyamorous people and people outside a certain age range

Pothheads, edm enthusiasts, furies

Ppl that I do not share the same interests/goes with.

pretty

Pushy agenda driven people

Pushy and stuck up

queer and trans people of color

Racist or homophobic people

Religious people or conservatives, because of human rights

Religious peoples and monogamous people

Republicans, alcoholics

Republicans, people who have hateful views, and cis straight men

Rude and self absorbed people

Rude selfish people

Rude, close minded, doesn't understand me, not being smart, pushy

Rude, judgemental, shorter than 4'11 (me), controlling people

rude, pushy, judgemental, lack communication, lack empathy, don't like cats

Scammers or someone moving to fast

Selfish

Sex pests

Shallow don't know the value of a dollar which is shit right now

Short hair women shy

shy we can't both be shy

Single parents

Smokers, people that are incapable of being single and go from relationship to relationship, people that display egotistical behavior.

Someone that just tells you what they think you wanna hear to only just sexualize you or use you for sexual reasons like hookups.

Someone who don't take care of their appearances, or someone who looks stuck up to even try to talk too

Sometimes

Sometimes cisgender men.

Spoiled brats, MAGA cultist straight and above 25

Straight cismen.

Straight guys

Straight men

Straight men and lesbian women because *I am not a woman* being told I "pass" as one is so not a compliment

Straight men, people without a bio, people without multiple face images, people that are sexual from the start

Straight people

Straight people, because I don't identify as a woman and won't go back in the closet for a partner.

Straight women

Strongly religious people would clash with me.

Stuck up, gold diggers.

Studs

Studs are not my type

Studs. Overly masculine women

Taboo people

TAURUS

Tbd

The people a decade or more older than me. I frankly think it's disgusting that 30+ year olds are trying to get with people so much younger than them- especially considering there are people freshly 18 on this app. I would appreciate an option to not be shown to people like that. It makes me feel horrible when I find out people like that have liked my profile (I specifically have to put not to in my bio and they still do)

The people that try to demand things from me and try to go off app to message and stuff are my big 2

The profile needs to have personality

The type of people that make me believe that we have something serious and then block me three different times. I really thought I had something going with this person

They live far away, they come from an ignorant culture, they don't have a profile photo or obscure their face, they only talk about sex

Those I do not have physical or emotional connection with.

those looking for a third

Those seeking long distance relationships

Those that are not my type.

Those that have absolutely nothing for a bio, they say a little and not enough about them that would interest me.

Those who are much older than me. Some years ahead are fine, even into late 30's but eventually they become too old with little being able to bridge an emotional connection

Those who are too far out and don't use their brains.selfish people, narcissists, leftists, racists, followers , liars, etc

Those who don't respect boundaries

Those who lack a sense of humor, imagination, and compassionate understanding.

Those with no pictures

To many people here who are only after people with money it's messed up and wrong

Too far or more than 3 years older than me

Too large Age gap, lesbians and straight men ( I am a trans man)

Too much older or people who start off controlling and pushy tops, because im a top.

Trans

Trans , men & bisexuals

Trans women

Transgender

Transgender male to female is big no

Transphobes. Or just people with ugly attitudes in general.

Transphobic people

Twink or jocks muscular but not too muscular and I like somewhat taller guys

Typically lesbians because I have a penis

Um tired as fuck

Unattractive people

unclean people

uncommunicative bland people. Like if they look like they could have been in a sorority or a frat i'm not interested just because it is a life style that does not have any cross over with mine and we would have no shared interests and I do not consider that aesthetic attractive unproductive

Unhygienic

Usually anyone seems to come across as ,Äúbasic,Äù and lacking personality/uniqueness.

usually people who are taller than me caucasian and someone who reaches out first

Usually polyamorous. I,Äô'm not looking to date multiple people at once.

Very unappealing to the eye some might say that's shallow but if you look like freewilly jumped out the ocean and landed in a puddle or a blobfish I'm sorry but I don't have the equipment to handle a job of that magnitude and I'll be looking elsewhere □ü$Σ,Äç,ôÇÔΠè

Wealthy

When thy start sending nudes

White

White emo tattoos on the face or neck

White people

White people & men

White. Cis. Men.

Women lol

Women who are aggressive or are male at heart, controlling women, non verbal/lack communication, boring, too uptight, rude, messy. I'm the box mentally, no supportive, lacks spiritual beliefs (Jesus), too many children, having older children, recent breakups

Women who enjoy playing the same video games as me, and who are pursuing some kind of collegiate education.

Women who have been married, just got out of a relationship, polyamorous Women, snd women with kids.

Yea

Yeah un covers profile pictures too exposed

Yes men

Yes the guys who label themselves as straight in their profile like why like me if you know I,Äô'm not a girl

Yes. I don,Äôt date cis men and I tend to not want to date anyone who is more then 3 years older than me or 10 years younger.

Yes. People im not attracted to physically or mentally. I'm not attracted to certain types of people due to their pictures or bios not aligning with my values or goals. I can generally tell if I will like someone or not just by their energy coming from their pictures and information in their bios. Certain types of people I don't like are the ones who just want to have sex with me and not actually try to build a genuine, decent type of relationship. (Relationship could be friendship, romantic, spiritual. Doesn't have to be for serious dating or marriage.) But I do need a level of emotional intimacy in order to feel satisfied with any sort of a relationship I put myself into.

Younger people. I always get younger people profiles.

What is the biggest challenge for you right now in your dating life?

✓ Answers:

:[

A constant flow of pointless interactions with incompatible individuals

A lot of important features being locked behind a paywall

A true genuine connection

A vehicle

Accessibility to local women

Actually dating

Actually finding people close to me

Actually finding someone but I'm very picky.

Actually going on dates

Actually meeting in person

Actually wanting to date

Actually, finding someone worth being with

Adopting my teen son hopefully and bringing a reliable partner in to form a family for the long run

Agree

almost everyone i know is either far away or unable to drive to me

An app that doesn't allow for it users to freely message about them selves. Let alone be able to see who is all in the area

Anxiety, lack of social skills

bad texters

Be friendly

Be happy

Be the same

Being a big woman then being there interested but don't show up for a meet up.

Being a single dad and finding the time to actually date.

Being a very masculine presenting transgender lesbian.

Being accepted

Being accepted as a trans woman.

Being an amputee and having to use diapers

Being bisexual and finding women that understand my situation

Being carless and homeless

Being deaf

Being gone with work all the time. Lack of free time to date.

Being homeless

Being in the same page

Being murdered/assaulted by a transphobe

Being queer and not liking dudes.

Being seen as viable.

Being trans and appealing to desired audience

Being trans. Being "weird" being treated like a blowup doll 24/7

Building a friendship and then a relationship

Busy schedule

Can,Äôt find someone like me

Can't find the right person

Can't find the write person.

Car.money. anxiety. Lack if experience.

Caring enough to message anyone I match with.

Chasers

Chasers who are only interested in me because of my identity

Cis men

Communication

Communication mostly. Almost no one has a compatible texting style and it's important to me, even after we've met up irl. And forget having common interests.

Compatibility and Willingness to step out of their typical understanding of love or relationships unless it's a boundary thing.

Confidence

Confidence to meet others.

Connecting and meeting each other when i can make time before they find someone else or move on

Connection to continue talking for longer then 5 min

Connectivity

Consistency

Consistency and honesty

Consistency and people being real raw and honest about their intentions.

Contentment

Continuing to keep the conversation going once it,Äôs started

Dating apps and paying for them

Dealing with people who fetishize me

Difficulty maintaining conversation and planning irl meet ups

Distance

Don't have that many challenges really.

Either they don't wanna talk, or they wanna talk too much and block me because I didn't text back quick enough

Emotional barriers

Engagement and intellectual conversations, a willingness to get to know someone

Establishing a true connection.

Everyone is just looking for friends

everyone just wants fwb or ons

Everyone wants to have sex no one wants to settle and build.

Everything

Everything.

Everytime I find someone on here and date them we end terribly

EXTREME ANXIETY and lack of money

Fake people

Fear ☐üò®

Feeling connected with others

Figuring out what it is I want

Figuring out what the fuck I want and need

Find a true one

Find someone that want to settle down with me .

Find someone that's on a level like and have good conversation

Find someone tht is looking for a long term relationship

Finding ,Äúthe one,Äù.

Finding a actual soulmate that,Äôs just for me.

Finding a dominante couple m/f

Finding a gf or bf

Finding a girl who,Äôs interested in me

Finding a good connection

Finding a partner understanding of my past

Finding a people that actually wants a relationship.

Finding a person

Finding a platform that truly fulfills my Need

Finding a real person

Finding a stable relationship finding a top/switch person to be with

Finding a true meaningful partner that wants marriage and a family one day.

Finding a trustworthy match. They,Äôre either trying to scam me or appear to have a cheating nature ☐üò¢

Finding an LGBT partner in my area that's not a gross 50 year old pervert.

Finding and talking to people

Finding anybody

Finding Asexual or asexual accepting people There,Äs not really any ace dating apps, and now way to specifically search by that on other apps, we,Äre out here looking for that feature though

Finding beautiful women who don't mind sharing.

Finding bisexual men who understand the importance of communication and respect versus immediate physical interactions.

Finding common ground

Finding compatibility

Finding connections

finding consistent connections

Finding cute people to pop out wit

Finding dates

Finding dates that share my interests.

Finding desirable people.

Finding genuine and respectful people.

Finding genuine people

Finding guys who aren,Ät shallow, take one look at you and think you,Äre not their definition of handsome or intriguing.

Finding her

Finding hot women lol

finding individuals who genuinely want to connect or even it just have a conversation

Finding interested parties within local areas that are more realistically reached

Finding like minded people that I find both attractive and that have similar lifestyles or personalities to mine.

Finding like minded polygamous people

Finding loyalty and understanding

Finding men who are okay with navigating my busy schedule

Finding my identity

Finding my type in a locally

Finding myself

Finding open minded people

Finding out who crazy

Finding out who I am

Finding partners with shared interests

Finding peace and happiness

Finding people

Finding people in my area and keeping up contact after making a connection

Finding people into me

Finding people nearby that are both attractive and engaging

Finding people that are okay with polyamory

Finding people that I find attractive on the app. I like punk or alternative aesthetics and keep getting recommended preppy aesthetics

Finding people that meet my standards

Finding people to meet in person

Finding people who act respectfully toward trans people who also happen to be looking for a trans partner. Having a filter for people to search specifically for trans men or trans women or non-binary people might help us find matches. I face transphobia, exclusion, and fetishization as an out trans guy on dating apps - I get skipped a lot and I also receive transphobic messages for explicit photos without any introduction or history with these men.

Finding people who are looking for the same things as me (QPRs, coparents, etc.). Also, finding people who I connect with on a similar emotional/intellectual level.

finding people who are okay without intercourse

Finding people who match my lifestyle.

finding people who want genuine relationships and are willing to communicate

Finding people who won't waste my time and just be straight up and what they want

Finding people worth talking to.

finding polyam people near me

finding similar dating intentions

Finding some who is real and fun not always so serious

finding somebody near me who wants to go on a date !!

Finding somebody who understands trauma and appreciates a man that acts with integrity and truth. Where money or possessions doesn't factor to what they require. I'm not trying to support someone but simple things like dates can be difficult for me to do spontaneously due to PTSD so many people judge and assi.e

Finding someone

Finding someone also interested in long term dating

Finding someone close to my age and more serious about actually dating.

Finding someone close to my area

Finding someone compatible

Finding someone consistent and that I,Ãm actually into. Someone with matching energy

Finding someone genuine nd someone that,Ãs not crazy weird or a creep

Finding someone I can be myself around and them excepting me for me

Finding someone interested in a long term, monogamous relationship

Finding someone my age to date and that is mature .

Finding someone on the same page

Finding someone real on this app

Finding someone serious and who,Ãs consistent.

Finding someone that actually wants to connect instead of hooking up

Finding someone that I truly connect with and has the emotional maturity to understand my mental illness finding someone that isn't a creep

Finding someone that meets my minimum requirements, namely Covid consciousness, being trans/non-cisgender, and race/ethnicity

Finding someone that stays consistent finding someone that wants to get off the app

Finding someone that,Ãs cute & can dress decent & just a nice person overall

Finding someone to be happy with and settle down with that won,Ãt use me and will love me for me

Finding someone who accepts kids in the lgbtq community.

Finding someone who actually cares about you and not use you.

Finding someone who actually responds and communicates at a decent rate. A lot of people don,Ãt respond to messages at all or very minimally.

Finding someone who actually wants to go out.

Finding someone who cares

Finding someone who doesn,Ãt just want sex

Finding someone who doesn,Ãt want hookups

Finding someone who expresses an equal interest in me and is willing to meet my energy.

Finding someone who I feel excited about

Finding someone who is consistent and like me for me

Finding someone who is into plus size trans women who is not toxic and ok with a bad hairline.

Finding someone who is okay with polyamory.

Finding someone who is on the path as far as goals and business

Finding someone who is respectful of my boundaries and I guess a feeling of meeting someone who with treat me in a realm of how I know I deserve to be bc I do the same.

Finding someone who is serious

Finding someone who is similar to me

Finding someone who is willing to date me even though I,Ãm trans

Finding someone who likes me for me

Finding someone who picks my interest.

Finding someone who ready to start a family with

Finding someone who shares common interests and who wants more of a long term connection

Finding someone who they say they are

Finding someone who understands my new and acceptance of interest

Finding someone who understands space

Finding someone who wants me

Finding someone who wants to settle down but also still likes to have date nights and deep conversations.

Finding someone who won,Ãt ghost me.

Finding someone who,Ãs consistent and serious about wanting a relationship

Finding someone who's real

Finding someone who's words align with their actions

Finding someone whos looking for a relationship

Finding someone worth my time

Finding the best guy/right one

Finding the RIGHT one for me

Finding the right partner

Finding the right person

Finding the right person who wants what I want or knowing what I am into

Finding the time to go out

Finding time

Finding time, and finding someone that matches my mentality and standards.

Finding trans women around me in my area

Finding woman who not asking for money or Finding real woman not bots

Finding women that are honest, faithful, not shallow, and don't have kids.

Finding women that don't unmatched after 10 minutes of talking.

Finding women who like submissive and bottom men. I'm not aggressive or a pursuer.

For other to start vibin out with me

Free time

Friends

Genuine connections

Getting a chance

Getting anyone to engage in a conversation

Getting coochie

Getting feedback from people I've matched with.

Getting matches with people who genuinely want to connect

Getting my life together (financially), and finding someone who ACTUALLY expresses an interest in me, and doesn't give single worded responses. Finding someone who truly wants to date me (long term).

Getting over the fact that some people are terrible and I choose bad people

Getting pass the talk stage

Getting people to answer or talk to me other than paywalls

Getting people to respond or talk when matched

Getting physical touch. Feeling like I won't meet someone one value online because it works so negatively against men unless you're extremely attractive.

Getting some consistent head

Getting someone to communicate back and actually go out

Getting them to be as engaged as I am and getting them to follow through with being into me too

Getting to know them

Ghosts

Go to my flexibility to be working and trying to find somebody I do get nervous for us if I wasn't nervous then something will be wrong but I'm just looking for a female I am I lesbian and I just need to get over that hump and we're conversation and shiny to overcome that

Guys only wanting to have ONS with me.

Haven't found the one yet and been getting more rude people then nice ones

Having a conversation with someone.

Having a real conversation with someone that's not just niceties (i.e. how are you? what do you like to do for fun? whats your favorite book? etc.)

Having enough time, energy, and money for dates

Having more then one conversation

Having no transportation

Having time

Having time to go on dates and the lack of people willing to show up

Hdmdmd

HIV positivd

Honestly n loyalty

Honesty

Hookups

How are you

How far away they are from me.

I am disabled and dealing with chronic pain, and I have social anxiety about going out to public places like bars to meet new people.

I am just looking for more freinds everyone seems to just want fuck buddies.

I am not having challenges, dating is not important for me at this stage of life and I am mostly pursuing friends or fwb

I believe Taimi strategically capitalizes from using misleading verification functionality.

I can seem find that wants more then just pics and stuff

I can,Ãt seem to match with fem lesbians . I want to match solely with feminine lesbian women .

I can't stress this enough ***STRAIGHT MEN*** won't leave me alone because I look like a woman

I could never find someone who has same energy or the same passion as me.

I do not drive

I don,Ãt have time to waist

I don't feel that I am ready

I don't have many

I don't have my driver's license or a car so that's my biggest challenge

I don't know

I dont currently have any challenges, I'm just looking for friends currently, i have a partner now

I feel I,Ãm too old for people younger than me, and too young for people older than me. If that makes sense.

I get bored really easily.

I guess with my looks women look at me like an $ opportunity

I have a child

I have a child so I need to keep things at arms length until I know for sure or anyone is introduced to my child.

I have a hard time picking up social queues and flirting.

I have trouble initiating conversation in the beginning so unless the other person takes the lead conversation gets stilted

I just don't find what I look for sometimes.

I just got out of a traumatic breakup and it's hard to connect without a lot of fear

I like women but I'm afraid of them

I would have to say finding a true top or a masculine top

I'm looking for a tall sexy man

I'm not out and can't drive

I'm scared of men bc they lie and try to fuck me

I'm a shy individual

I'm frustrated since I'm able to make connections with people in these apps, but I've no means to meet them in person since currently, no one at my home has any means of transportation.

I'm immune compromised so dating is difficult.

I'm in an isolated region and nobody has responded on any dating app

I'm in financial hardship, and I'm demisexual. I either meet people who come on too hard with sexual flirting or ai find people who only want to be friends

I'm married and have a girlfriend, and there is a stigma against a poly-lifestyle

I'm not sure just yet.

I'm obese, unhappy, not taking care of myself, and somehow I expect to find someone that will want something to do with me. probably just mental illness keeping me from anything meaningful.

I'm the biggest challenge

I'm ugly as hell.

I am a cis white male trying to meet trans women... Nearly impossible

Idk whats wrong with me

im shy

In consistency

inability to find someone to explore my sexuality

Inability to host or meet up at my home insecurities

Intrests

Just finding people

Just finding someone, it would be so much easier after but I can't even start the race

Keeping a relationship

Keeping a talking stage going

Lack of commitment from others, not serious, have kids and don't want more.

Lack of communication. One sided conversations and lack of effort.

Lack of dating experiences.

Lack of finances and social life. Seems only people interested in me are bots

Lack of free time

Lack of Information or none in profile.

Lack of interest; people not knowing how to use textual language to their advantage.

Lack of interesting life

Lack of motivation

Lack of options

Lack of options and I'm in the middle of some big life transitions

Lack of personal experience

Lack of personal growth. I don't feel unloveable but I do not want to pursue a relationship when I don't bring much to the table.

Lack of resources

Lack of transportation

Lack of transportation.

Language

Life

Limited access to transportation for meeting people irl.

Limited personal time to go on dates, and finding trustworthy people.

Limited trans community in my area living in a very anti gay state and always finding women who are pretending to be lesbian. also nobody ever texts me back

Location

Location.

Location. There's nobody near me

Long distance

Long distance is a big one ,it doesn't feel connected online . And also people having lack of interest

Low social battery

Loyal honest

Maintaining people's interest in order to move a relationship forward into something more concrete. At least, specifically when it comes to dating apps. I feel like I have good success with openers generally, but moving between that and regular communication that leads to building a rapport seems difficult. As if people suddenly lose interest or have other things competing for their attention. It can feel sometimes like it's an uneven interaction, either I'm failing to hold people's attention or they're not as interested as they seemed or claimed.

Making a general sincere connection

Making my music and dating is hard

Making sure the person I am looking for wants what I want. if they want more than we can discuss it later on, I want to be able to grow with that person along with My Husband

Making the time to go out

Matches don't like my living arrangement

Matching

Matching with people and then going on dates

Maybe pushy people that want to have sex right away

Me

Me!

Me.

Meet the person

Meeting in person

Meeting interested local people and probably my kids but who really knows

Meeting lesbians

Meeting likeminded individuals

Meeting others in real life

Meeting people

Meeting people due to my work schedule

Meeting people I will talk to a lot of people and they just never want to meet up

Meeting people my social life is nonexistent.

Meeting people who are serious about dating

Meeting people who want to genuinely grow with another person.

Meeting real women

Meeting real, likeminded people.

Meeting someone

Meeting Someone Genuine And Authentic

Meeting someone with the same mindset and intention with me

Meeting up

Mental health and unemployment

Mmmm

Money

Most lack the ability to communicate effectively and with any sense of true interest because all that,Ãs ever genuinely seen is ego, superficiality, and arrogance.

Most people just want to hook up

My age

My chronic illness

my gender identity

My husband

My intersectional identity. This app is great for being up front about all my stipulations.

My job

My looking

My mental health was crappy the last few months, so it was hard to converse

My monetary situation doesn't allow for extracurricular activities.

My own mental well-being

My shyness and worries about how different others might be in person, or my own struggles with in person compared to over text

My trauma, adhd and anxiety

Myself

Myself, I'm very scared of commitment

Never

No being able to see profiles

No communication or connection

No matches

No one ever wants to make plans and be consistent. Everyone wants to stay home alone with their pet. As well so many people are ,Ápoly,Á and only looking to ,Ámake more friends,Á but again never make plans to connect and use mental illness as a way to stay lonely.

No one in my area that are what I'm looking for

No one nearby

No one on the app wants to meet.

No one seems interested in participating in a conversation. I'm usually the one dragging it along until I get tired of it.

No one seems interested.

No one want to look past my past trauma, autism or my transness.

No one wants me

No responses

No transportation

No vehicle

Nobody takes it seriously

None! Looking for frieeends a third partner for poly

Not able to be myself.

Not able to find sb to actually take serious

Not being able to drive, or just life in general because well, life's a bitch and won't stop any time soon. Life has up and downs, if anything it helps because that means I also find a partner willing to stick through even if we just started talking.

Not being able to find a decent connection

Not being able to find someone or someone genuine not being attracted

Not dating I guess haha

Not getting any dates. Low to no matches from people I'm at all interested in.

Not getting any dates..but they click yes which is absurd to me or any guy seeking real relationships

Not getting any monogamous matches that fit my interests

Not getting ghosted

not having feeling reciprocated

Not living by myself

not sure

Not sustaining connections.

Nothing i dont wanna date, im just looking for one night stands. But i would say also this app bc it doesn't show a lot of people.

Nothing much

Nothing.

Noting meeting the person

NV

Often times the ability to find people is locked behind a paywall. For example blurred profiles that you can't access. It can be harder to find people when you don't already know they like you.

Other (please specify)

Other things taking up all my time

Parents

People

People are unable to hold a conversation, don't want to videocall, or they just exist there to promote their instagram or onlyfans

People ghosting

People just wanting a physical connection and nothing more. That doesn't work for me.

People mostly just want to hookup. Feeling fetishized.

People near me

People not continuing conversations

People not wanting to put the effort, wasting my time, people not being on the same type of time I, am on.

People responding back.

People say one thing but mean another or lie

People seem to lack a want to commit

People taking me serious or making a move. Being real.

People that don't know how to hold a conversation, leading me to feel they have a lack of interest.

People that don't know how to keep a conversation going

People that inconsistent and that don't communicate well.

People using me knowing that I'll give in

People who are monogamous and not into hookup culture. Many men are riddled with disease

People who are serious about dating

People won't make the effort to come to me

People.

People,Ãs intentions tend to change when the first meeting is set in stone

Personality seems to clash with all potential dates

Poverty

Providing a need for me to be in another person's life.

Pussy hoes

Really just stay interested in the person

Right now I'm not having a challenge in my dating life I just want to see where it takes me

Romance, scammers or people who are far away. Or people who claim to be in the military.

self confidence

Self confidence and social anxiety

Sexual Engagement, social anxiety

Someone that is actually looking for supportive relationship. That wants to build together.

Someone that's loyal that's trying to get to know me instead of my body

Someone who accepts my sexuality

Starting it?

Staying single

Substance

Taimi pushes well past my location despite my distance prefs

Talking more than 2 days and getting ghosted.

Tbd

Telling people i am HIV Undetectable

Temper

That I can't fall in love with people easily

The app itself is anti consumer.

The app trying to match me with people in Florida or other random states when all the people swiping on me are in Washington

The biggest challenge is finding someone who is genuine and loyal

the fact im a trans guy that doesnt like cis men. im exclusively a top and cis men will expect me to be a bottom. and yet, cis men feel like my only option, because nobody else seems to want me.

The financial

The lack of safe/inclusive apps and the absolutely dogshit moderators on this app specifically.

The number of bots and scammers found on most dating apps

the only men that are texting me right now are old

The other person communicating back

The people

The time

There are no white women on this site

These apps make it hard cause it,Âs a charge for everything

This app is full of fetishizers and no true filter for safety.

This app is great for fake people to say "Hello" then never message again. It's a frustrating app full of flaky people time

Time and prospects

Time management

Time, compatibility, being disabled

Time. I,Âm working sometimes up to 60 hours a week or more time. my career and passions leave me with little free time to devote to dating and i want to vet people better before i commit to spending time getting to know them

Time/Distance/Availability

Timing

To be able to get Married

To get to really know the person they aren,Ât clear on what they want at first also getting to see the profiles

To many smokers and single parents

To meet someone close that has the same thinking as me

Too many chasers and the inability to filter out straight men by sexuality.

Too many conservatives near me

Toxic people

Trans

Transitioning, not a lot of information

Transphobia and insecure men

Traveling to meet partners or potential partners.

Trust

Trust and loyalty

Trust in the person

Trust issues

Trusting others

Trusting people

Trusting people that they are honest about themselves online.

Trying to find someone in my state

Trying to find someone who can work with my own personal issues and not against them.

Trying to find the right one that I can trust to be with

Trying to find the right person for me

Trying to let myself be able to actually go on a first date

Unable to host or freely meet with individuals for meets/dates/ other activities.

Unsolicited pics

Very few options in my area.

Very tiny pool of compatible people to date

Wearing about getting killed just because I,Ãm transgender by black man

Weirdos being interesting to trick me into off site platforms.

When I find someone there inconsistent there trying to talk to me and fuck every one else

Where do I go to meet people

Women are hot and I,Ãm terrified of them respectfully

Women being flooded with 100,Ãs of likes which makes my profile harder to see

Work

Work life balance

Work life.

Working on myself

Working to much

Yo fine someone that I can trust

You match with someone and then they stop responding after a while.

Extra files: 🔗

Tableau dashboard: <https://tableau.tops1.io/views/DA-2664Resultsanalysis-qualitativerearchSuccessinDating/non-appOverall>

Results with open questions

